Standing Committee Creation and Termination Process

The present Rules of the Board do not include rationale for creating a new Standing Committee or terminating as Standing Committee. It is incumbent on the Board to provide the guidance, reporting structure plan and decision method for standing committee formation or termination since it impacts the Society organizational structure and resource use.

Criteria for the Creation of a Standing Committee

A new standing committee proposal is to be provided to ExCom. If the standing committee is considered in the best interest of advancing society, ExCom will bring the committee proposal forward as a motion for consideration on the Board of Directors agenda. The following must be provided within the proposal in the form of a two-page document (maximum):

- Defined scope and purpose
- Succinct definition for the work the committee will perform
- Desired long-term results
- Identification of other entities within ASHRAE with which the committee will interface
- Reason for standing committee, rather than a different committee type (TC, MTG, etc.)
- Rationale for the entity to which the committee is to report
- Composition – number of committee members and need for specific representation
- Annual financial and resource support needed
- Anticipated duration of the committee

Criteria for the Termination of a Standing Committee

A standing committee should not be considered to exist indefinitely once approved by the Board of Directors. There are topics that may warrant additional fiscal and personnel resources due to the prominence of a specific issue or the desire of the organization to emphasize a specific technical area justifying the creation of a standing committee. This emphasis may not be required in the long term therefore a procedure for terminating a standing committee is prudent.

Standing committees are reviewed bi-annually by their appointed ExO or CO. This review should include:

- How well the committee work aligns with its purpose and scope
- The level of progress made by the committee
- The long term goals of the committee
- The ability of the committee to identify and attract new members
- The interaction with other ASHRAE entities
- The pertinence of the committee to present ASHRAE goals and plans

These reviews are reported to the cognizant authority. The cognizant authority shall determine from these reports if the continued investment in each standing committee is warranted.

- If the standing committee is deemed to be no longer needed, the authority shall discuss possible termination with the committee.
- After discussions have taken place, if it is in the best interests of ASHRAE to terminate the committee, a request to terminate shall be brought to the Board of Directors as a motion.
