BEST PRACTICES FOR CHAPTER WEBSITES

Getting Started

This document is intended to act as a guideline for the creation and management of ASHRAE Chapter websites. A well-maintained website is a great tool for chapters to make announcements, attract members, share content, maintain historical information, establish a web presence, and much more! While this document establishes some basic standards for chapter websites, each chapter should strive to create a website that is unique for their membership.

Functional websites must have two items: a domain name and a website host. There are many service providers that offer one or both services with varying features and price points. As a best practice, the username and password for these services should be stored in a safe place so that any chapter officer can access. The backup email address assigned to these services should be an alias or email account accessible to any chapter officer, not a personal email address.

Financial Investment and Time Commitment

Creating and maintaining a chapter website requires a financial and time commitment from each chapter. The levels of time and financial commitment depend on what the chapter chooses their website solution to be. This document attempts to outline various options used by chapters.

Domain Name and Registration

The domain name is the homepage URL, or the string of text that comes after www. ASHRAE does not have a policy for a chapter’s domain name, but recommends it meets the following criteria:

- The domain name of your chapter website should be specific and identifiable such that it will be a top result when your chapter name is searched via Google or other search engines.
- The actual name, acronym, abbreviation, or common nickname of your chapter should be included in the web address.
- The term “ASHRAE” should be included in the domain name.
- The domain should end in .org

This information is intended to be a brief primer with the understanding that anyone reading will be following established ASHRAE processes, including all that are outlined in ASHRAE’s Rules of the Board and the Manuals of Chapter and Regions Operations. Reference to any company or entity does not imply endorsement in any way by ASHRAE’s Communications Committee.
Chapters should expect to pay between $5-$20 USD annually for domain name registration. To avoid a lapse in service, domain registration should be set to renew automatically.

Website Hosting Options

A website host is the location where your website files are stored. In the past, website editors would need to design a website in a file on their computer and then upload the file to the website host. These days, most website hosts offer a website builder as a part of their service. Depending on the level of service, chapters should expect to pay between $100 - $200 USD or more. Hosting by ASHRAE Society is available free of charge to chapters and regions, with limited support. To inquire about a Society-hosted website, email Communications Committee Staff Liaison Joslyn Ratcliff at jratcliff@ashrae.org.

A chapter may elect to create and maintain their website from a blank slate. But it may be helpful to work from a template. In 2019 the Communications Committee surveyed chapters and found the most popular website hosting platforms to be Wix and WordPress. To that end, the Communications Committee maintains, and makes available to chapters free of charge, the following website templates that chapters may use as a starting point for their website.

- Wix Template:

- WordPress Template:

Some of the other website hosting services Chapters use include:

- StarChapter
- Shiftweb
- Wild Apricot
- Square Space
- Weebly
- GoDaddy
- Bluefish
- ASHRAE Society Hosting

Some chapters elect to outsource the website design and ongoing maintenance to a 3rd party company.

This information is intended to be a brief primer with the understanding that anyone reading will be following established ASHRAE processes, including all that are outlined in ASHRAE’s Rules of the Board and the Manuals of Chapter and Regions Operations. Reference to any company or entity does not imply endorsement in any way by ASHRAE’s Communications Committee.
ASHRAE Society Hosting:

ASHRAE Society supports limited website hosting at no cost to chapters, however, most chapters choose other more robust solutions with cost associated. This is because ASHRAE does not provide hosting that supports database-driven sites such as WordPress, Joomla, Wix, or other third-party solutions. ASHRAE-hosted sites are only provided with a subdomain for their chapter to use following the format ASHRAEChapter.ashraechapters.org, but a domain name such as ASHRAEChapter.org, is not provided. Chapters that choose ASHRAE’s hosting are provided with server space and FTP access.
